

Corky Winged Elm

Ulmus alata 'Corky'

One of the smaller native Elms, the favorite unique feature is seen on the branches. Beautiful, corky, winged branches are quite ornamental and cut branches adds interest to flower arrangements. Dark green, pest free foliage turning to yellow in the fall.

This is a special selection which forms the corky wings much heavier and earlier than those normally found in the wild.

Mature height 40-50 feet x 30-40 feet.

Cold hardy to U.S.D.A. Zone 6.
